

Bird Scavenger Hunt

Find ten of the bird species listed to qualify for your Junior Birder Badge

Black Capped Chickadee

These small birds are found in forests where they nest in holes in trees. They love to eat insects.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

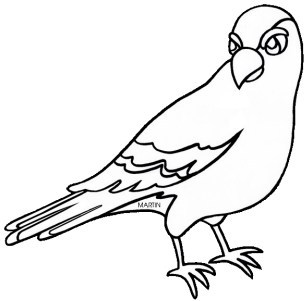

Northern Flicker

These are large birds that live in open woodlands. They are often on the ground gathering insects.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

American Goldfinch

These bright yellow birds love eating seeds from grasses and flowers. They're found in prairie.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Barn Swallow

Barn Swallows are found in grasslands flying overhead. They will often swoop to catch insects.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Eastern Bluebird

These blue and orange birds love open grasslands. They eat mostly ground insects like beetles.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Scarlett Tanager

These bright red and black birds live and nest in trees where they spend time hunting insects.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Turkey Vulture

These large birds can be seen flying over open areas looking for roadkill to eat.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

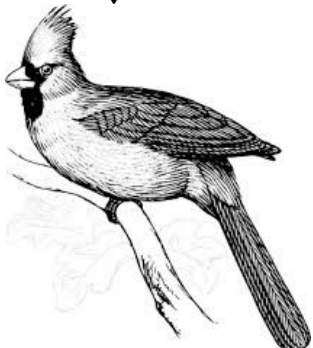

Indigo Bunting

These tiny blue birds can be found in bushy areas on habitat edges searching for seeds and bugs.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Northern Cardinal

These birds are found in overgrown areas with places to perch. They eat mainly fruits and seeds.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Red Tailed Hawk

This bird of prey is common in many types of habitats. It can be seen flying overhead hunting small mammals and other birds.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Wood Thrush

These spotted birds live and nest in the middle of old forests. They eat small invertebrates.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Red-Winged Blackbird

These birds are a common wetland species with a varied diet; they eat seeds and insects

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Blue Jay

These blue birds can be found on the edges of forests. They will eat almost anything.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Orchard Oriole

These birds are found in woody areas near water. They eat bugs, nectar, and fruit.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

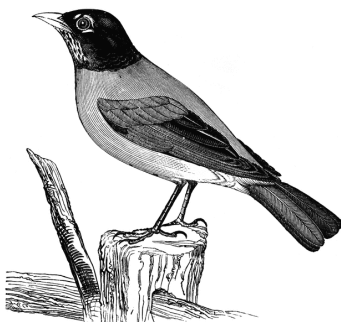

Yellow-Billed Cuckoo

These birds like areas with dense tree coverage. Their main prey are caterpillars.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

American Robin

These birds are very common and can be found anywhere. They eat almost anything.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Ruby-Throated Hummingbird

These tiny birds live in prairies and forests. They mostly eat the nectar of plants but have been known to eat small insects.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Belted Kingfisher

Their diet is mainly fish and other aquatic creatures, so these birds are found near water.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Red-Bellied Woodpecker

These birds live in most wooded areas. Their main diet is insects, but they will eat seeds and nuts.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

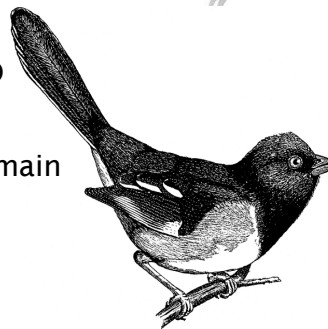

Yellow-Rumped Warbler

These little birds live in trees and shrubs where they feed on fruits and bugs.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Eastern Towhee

These birds live on forest edges where they search for grains, seeds and fruits to eat.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

Eastern Phoebe

These birds live in wooded areas near water. They eat primarily flying insects, but also eat ticks.

Date Found:

What was it doing?

